DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dupuis et al. (6,462,620).

Dupuis et al. (Figs. 4, 6) disclose an RF amplifier circuit comprising : a complementary pair of switches (M1, M2) having a common output terminal (232); and voltage regulator (244) and capacitor (C2) can be read as a power source, wherein the schematic of the voltage regulator discloses in Fig. 6 including a transistor (M4) which can be read as a current source and the voltage regulator is capable of control the power level such that it is constant.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Phillips et al. (5,859,878).

Phillips et al. (Fig. 1) disclose radio frequency (RF) apparatus comprising : a first circuit partition (104) comprises receiver analog circuitry (104) for receiving an analog
